

Support the Festival - Sponsor a Class

Glasgow Music Festival Association invites support of individuals and groups to help ensure that people of all ages may continue to benefit from the Festival's unique performance opportunities. Funding the Festival is challenging, and those who sponsor a class will make a valuable and important contribution to this work.

Any class in the Festival - in music, speech & drama and dance - may be sponsored. A donation from £20 sponsors a solo class; from £30 sponsors a class for duets or small groups; and from £50 sponsors a class for choirs, orchestras or bands.

Class sponsors may choose to be acknowledged in the Festival Programme or to be anonymous as they prefer. It is anticipated that named sponsors of a class will be included in a list as part of that class's programme description. The opportunity to sponsor a class exclusively or to sponsor a section or range of classes may also be available.

If you wish to support the Festival in this important way, please complete the information below. Completed forms may be posted or sent by email to:

I would like to sponsor a class (or classes) in the following category (or categories):
Please mark a box or, for two or more classes, enter the total number of classes you wish to sponsor in a category.

Solo class (Music and Speech & Drama)	(donation from £20 a class)	<input type="checkbox"/>
Duet or small group class ¹ (Music, Speech & Drama and Dance)	(donation from £30 a class)	<input type="checkbox"/>
Choirs, orchestras or bands class (Music only)	(donation from £50 a class)	<input type="checkbox"/>

¹ A duet or small group class is any class in which a performance is given by more than one performer (not counting the accompanist in accompanied music classes) and where the title of the class does not include the word 'choirs', 'orchestras', or 'bands'. For this purpose, a Composition and Invention class is considered to be a solo class.

Please tell us which class or classes you'd like to sponsor. Please feel free to specify a particular class in the current Syllabus, or if you prefer, please indicate the type of class or a range of classes from which the class should be selected. In the event that a class specified is not programmed, we will substitute a similar class in the programme.
